Johnson Inherits Fierce Debate On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political necessity of getting Congressional action on civil rights is President Johnson's biggest domestic problem—just as it was John F. Kennedy's.

The current mood of moderation among the lawmakers may produce some relatively speedy action on aid to education, vocational training and other bills when they return from their holiday next week.

But the fierce controversy over the late president's program for an expansion of racial equality will test all of Johnson's vaunted ability to tackle with the legislative wind to reach his objective.

Johnson has called for action now on Kennedy's civil rights legislation. The possibilities of getting it likely will be discussed today at a meeting between Johnson and Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Kennedy's relations with Congress were building to a crisis—a situation Johnson has inherited. Yet the new President can not afford in an election year not to get what Negro voters regard as meaningful civil rights legislation.

Kennedy's strength with the Negroes was unquestioned, Johnson's is not readily assessable. If the President has to compromise the rights bill to get Congress' approval for it, he could lose ground sharply with Negroes, particularly if the Republicans nominate a strong civil rights advocate.

There now is no apparent way to move past the barrier of a Southern Democratic filibuster in the Senate a bill containing the controversial section that would enforce desegregation on selected businesses dealing with the public.

If Robert F. Kennedy remains as attorney general and Johnson follows his advice in this field, the President would refuse to compromise this provision any further.

The attorney general thinks that any civil rights legislation without a strong public accommodations provision would be unacceptable to Negroes.

House leaders began oiling up two old parliamentary moves to prevent the Southern-led Rules Committee from blocking action on the civil rights bill.

One would bypass the committee; the other would temporarily strip Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of his control over the 15-member group. Smith is strongly opposed to the rights measure.

Both moves are intended to produce early compliance—probably in January—with Johnson's plea for less talk and more action on civil rights as a memorial to the late president.

SHOPPERS scurried from store to store in the business district today as a brisk wind, accompanied by snow flurries during the early morning, whipped through the downtown area. The weatherman's noon forecast indicated more snow is on the way with temperatures dropping to about 25 degrees by morning. The high tomorrow is expected to be in the 30s.

COLORED lights and other Christmas decorations in downtown Circleville will be lighted for the first time tonight as the holiday shopping season officially opens.

President Lyndon B. Johnson also named this Florida East Coast promontory's vast facilities for rocketry the John F. Kennedy Space Center.

The surprise action Thursday night drew mostly favorable comment here but it posed some problems for businesses which have capitalized on the Cape Canaveral name.

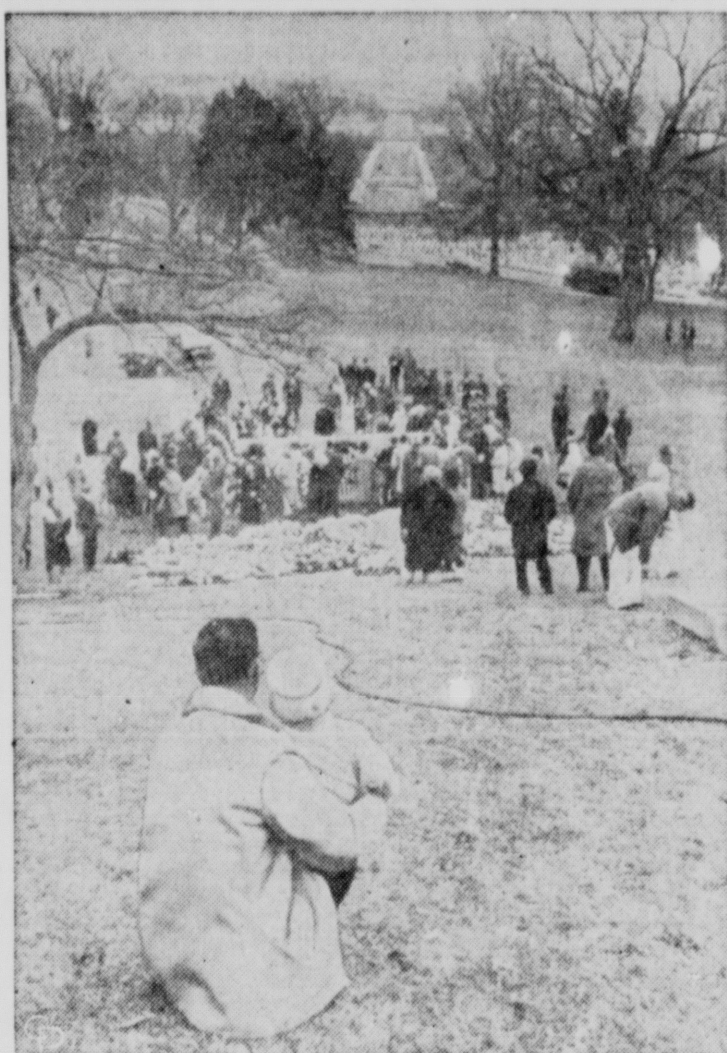

Some officials, including Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida and missile-space program executives, drew heartening inference that Johnson's action means full-speed ahead on the man-in-the-moon flight and other projects President Kennedy pushed

JFK's Grave Is Visited By 200,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 200,000 Americans put aside their Thanksgiving dinners for a while and made their way on a bleak and gray day up a hill to a grave.

Four little sisters picked chrysanthemums from their grandmother's garden and dropped them by the grave.

Mrs. Kennedy came once again and prayed.

Thanksgiving Day became a day of homage to John F. Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery.

Traffic slowed and jammed as the thousands drove toward the cemetery overlooking the Potomac River. Many parked their cars and began to walk to the cemetery.

They carried faded roses and ferns, bought in stores the day before.

Silently, they paid their respects at the picket fence that surrounds the drive and the eternal light burning over the body of the president, who was assassinated a week ago today.

Mrs. Kennedy made her fifth trip to the grave since the burial Monday. Dressed in black she knelt, crossed herself, and moved her lips in silent prayer.

Later she flew to Cape Cod for a Thanksgiving reunion with the Kennedy family.

Sir Winston To Be 89 On Saturday

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, still fond of a hearty meal and a good cigar, will be 89 Saturday.

"He's feeling very fit," said a family spokesman, "better than in a long time."

Churchill dined Thursday night with London's exclusive The Other Club, which he and Lord Birkbeck founded in 1911. Its members get together solely to indulge their taste for good food, drink and conversation.

Churchill presided at the dinner for 20 men. The menu included smoked salmon, oysters, dressed crab, fillet of sole, saddle of lamb, sliced pears an ice cream with chocolate sauce.

Since he broke his hip in a fall in 1962, Churchill has been much less active. His hearing is bad. Often his mind wanders back to events of long ago while he forgets those of yesterday.

But occasionally there are flashes of the brilliance and clarity of mind so characteristic of his long career, say close friends.

This has been a year clouded with sadness. His oldest child, Diana, killed herself. The husband of his actress daughter, Sarah, died of a heart attack.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet armed forces newspaper Red Star accused Britain today of seeking to boost military reparations and intensify the cold war.

The paper said the British decision to merge the army, navy and air ministry into a single defense ministry "further intensifies the aggressive policy of the British imperialists."

"The concentration of military power in one place will sharply increase the role of the military in determining both the home and foreign policy of the country and in the spending of its financial and other resources," Red Star added.

NEW YORK (AP)—A Republican senator from Colorado, Peter R. Dominick, says "it isn't necessarily true that President Johnson is going to be the Democratic candidate" in 1964.

Dominick said in a television interview there's a "definite possibility" that Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota will get the Democratic presidential nomination.

Rocket Tests In Pacific Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, exponent of a vigorous national space program, found himself confronted today with dramatic new evidence of Russia's intensified pace in the race.

The Soviet Union Thursday night announced a new series of rocket tests in the Pacific Ocean beginning next Monday and lasting almost two months.

The tests, said the Soviet news agency Tass, will be made "in view of the enlargement of the program of scientific research in the further exploration of outer space."

The series presumably is part of the Soviet Union's program to land men on the moon—a program in which the United States also has embarked, with the support of Johnson.

The Moscow announcement came at almost the exact moment Johnson, in his speech to the nation, announced he was honoring the late President Kennedy by renaming the launch area and missile test center at Cape Canaveral the John F. Kennedy Space Center and renaming the cape itself Cape Kennedy.

One of the impact areas designated in the Moscow announcement is in the vicinity of the Marshall Islands, where previous rockets have been directed. The other is northward in the Pacific, generally east of Tokyo.

The U.S. is able to track Soviet rockets virtually from the point of launching in the Caspian Sea area to the impact point in the Pacific.

Radar tracking stations, with ranges of several thousand miles, are believed to be operating in Turkey. These provide data on the initial phase of the flights.

Another powerful station in the Aleutian Islands can pick up the image of the rockets as they soar high above eastern Russia and the Maritime Provinces and follow them down to where ships and aircraft track them in the final phases of trajectory.

Father of 14 Freed in Slaying

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—A father of 14 has been cleared in the fatal shooting of his landlord at Midas.

Dist. Attny. Joseph O. McDaniel declared Thursday no charges would be filed against Alvin Burkett, 49, after a coroner's jury ruled the Nov. 21 shooting of Richard W. Robertson, 33, was justifiable homicide.

The jury found that Burkett had "acted in apparent fear because of previous events" when Robertson entered their home.

Burkett said Robertson held a hand in his pocket as if holding a gun.

Liberal Dems May Slow LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson faces a revolt among a group of House Democratic liberals, a revolt that began before the death of President John F. Kennedy.

It is aimed not at the President, but at Congress. It aims at punishment, by withdrawal of party seniority privileges, of those Democrats who refuse to support the national party ticket and policies. President Kennedy always declined to take such a drastic step, preferring conciliation and persuasion.

Leading the revolt is Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., one of the party's most articulate and thoughtful strategists in the House.

His target is the "subversives and quiescents of the Democratic party," whom he defines as some Southern conservatives.

Bolling takes issue with President Johnson's belief, as expressed in his speech to Congress Wednesday, in "the ability of Congress to act; to meet any crisis; to distill from our differences strong programs of national action."

Bolling said in an interview that Congress is not viable, or able to live under its present structure.

He said it has not been viable for a long time "but hasn't been observed as such" because the late speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, held it together and made it work by his personal prestige and influence.

"We staggered along with the appearance of functioning largely because of Rayburn," Bolling said. "It is not the fault of the Republicans. They are a conservative party, by and large. But they are responsible. We—the Democrats—on the other hand, are totally irresponsible."

Bolling's solution?

"The minimum is, we start with a demand for at least a minimum of party loyalty. They must at least support the national ticket."

"The maximum would have the effect of altering the power structure. This is the only kind of reform that would have any meaning."

"The faults of Congress are not intrinsic, but lie with the Democratic party. My approach is to maximize the number who behave like Democrats and minimize those who don't."

This can be done, Bolling said, by denying the privileges of party seniority, including committee chairmanships, to Southern Democrats who openly defy and work against the national Democratic ticket.

Uninvited Guest Robs Benefactor

CINCINNATI (AP) — Anna Bosse came home from church Thursday and found a young man sitting on the couch with his shoes off and talking on the phone. He'd fixed himself a hamburger and was drinking beer.

Mrs. Bosse, 57, said he told her not to worry—he wasn't a burglar. He was just having trouble with his wife and had no place to go.

He then asked her to fix him a cup of coffee and after she brought it, he said everything had been patched up and he was going home.

Mrs. Bosse told police she gave him 50 cents for bus fare—and then discovered he had taken $3.50 from her purse while she was fixing the coffee.

The official dedication has been set for 1 p. m. Sunday at the lodge. Special events also have been planned for tonight and Saturday night.

Mayor Richard Penn will take part in Sunday's Dedication. Police Chief Robert Temple or his representative also will be present.

Activities for tonight and Saturday night will be in the form of dancing at the lodge. State officers of the Eagle organization will conduct a board meeting Saturday and possibly again on Sunday.

THE DEDICATION ceremony will be directed by the Rev. L. S. Metzler. Tom A. Renick, local attorney, will be taken to Additional events will include the initiation of a class of about 30 members. This phase of the program will start at 2 p. m. Sunday, and will be in honor of the state officers' present.

The local lodge was chartered on June 1, 1964. A portion of the old building was heavily damaged by fire almost two years ago.

A project to repair the original building and add a complete new front was undertaken shortly after the blaze.

The Circleville lodge is headed by worthy president Eldon (Jack) Lane. Other officers and officials are: Mack Shaw, worthy vice president; Richard Dawson, treasurer; William Puckett, secretary; and Ralph Hoffman Jr., Robert Toole and Paul Olney, trustees.

PREPPING FOR DEDICATION — Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles No. 685 are all set for the weekend dedication of the new addition to their lodge home on E. Main St. Planning ceremonies here are Ralph Hoffman Jr., trustee (left) and William Puckett, secretary. The official dedication has been set for 1 p. m. Sunday. Legislature To Get Plan

Rhodes Predicts Vast Improvement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's legislature convening Monday will be asked to approve allocation of $38 million for a three-year program to develop parks and recreation, Gov. James A. Rhodes said today.

He predicted that contemplated facilities would bring more than a 50 per cent increase in the 20 million visitor-days at state parks last year.

"It will throw another $50 million a year into our retail trade economy," he told a news conference. "It is a rule of thumb that a retail dollar turns over seven times," he added.

The program envisages: Ten additional swimming beaches in 10 state parks. Six thousand additional campsites at 22 parks, doubling present facilities.

Twenty-seven new boat docking facilities at 27 parks and improvement of three others. Acquisition of 29,292 acres of land for parks and water impoundment.

Natural Resources Director Fred E. Morr estimated that impounded water would cover nearly 8,000 acres. Terming water "the lifeblood of industry", Rhodes said "This is another prong of our drive for the total economic development of Ohio to provide more jobs."

Financing the program will be $25 million from the voter-approved $250-million bond issue, plus $13 million in natural resources and federal funds.

Other bond financed programs were previously announced for accelerated highway construction and a dozen new technical institutes.

Morr displayed plans for construction of cabins along motel lines at Lake Hope. He said other parks would be included in the construction program. Revenue bonds to finance the projects will be retired from rentals, fees for food concessions and the like.

The director said it has not been determined whether park entrance fees would be charged.

He said the state would retain control of facilities that might be built by private contractors under lease arrangements. The state also could build the facilities and either operate or lease them, he added.

The $38 million was split into four segments to cover the entire state.

Recommended allocations of $9,421,000 for the northeast section were:

East Harbor on Lake Erie—$600,000, water supply and sewerage; Cleveland area—$3.2 million, land, camping and picnic areas and beach; Tinkers Creek $300,000, public hunting and fishing; Punderson $860,000, land camping and beach; Youngstown—Akron—$700,000, land; Warren—$1 million land; Lorain and Cuyahoga counties—$305,000, camping; Pymatung—$200,000 camping; Refuge Harbor Youngstown-Ashtabula—$450,000 lake boating; Youngstown-Stark County—$481,000, water impoundment and camping; Mohican Forest Akron-Mansfield $265,000, boating, fishing and trails; Ashland wildlife—$40,000 fishing and $365,000, boating and harbor; (Continued on Page 2)

Killing Probed In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — One man is dead and a woman is reported in poor condition following a shooting here early today.

Found dead in an alley of shotgun wounds was Eddie Ellis. His body was found shortly after Virginia Louise Parkman, 25, was wounded in the legs with a shotgun blast as she and Alfred Mitchell were returning from a date. Mitchell is being held as a material witness.

Police said Ellis, who also had been dating the Parkman woman, apparently was waiting for the pair. He fired one shot through the door of the woman's apartment and when she ran to the street he followed, hitting her with a second shot. Ellis then fled.

A few minutes later, police found Ellis' body in an alley. A shotgun was found beside the body.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's legislature convening Monday will be asked to approve allocation of $38 million for a three-year program to develop parks and recreation, Gov. James A. Rhodes said today.

He predicted that contemplated facilities would bring more than a 50 per cent increase in the 20 million visitor-days at state parks last year.

"It will throw another $50 million a year into our retail trade economy," he told a news conference. "It is a rule of thumb that a retail dollar turns over seven times," he added.

The program envisages: Ten additional swimming beaches in 10 state parks.

Six thousand additional campsites at 22 parks, doubling present facilities.

Twenty-seven new boat docking facilities at 27 parks and improvement of three others.

Acquisition of 29,292 acres of land for parks and water impoundment.

Natura Resources Director Fred E. Morr estimated that impounded water would cover nearly 8,000 acres.

Termining water "the lifeblood of industry," Rhodes said "This is another prong of our drive for the total economic development of Ohio to provide more jobs."

Financing the program will be $25 million from the voter-approved $250-million bond issue, plus $13 million in natural resources and federal funds.

Other bond financed programs were previously announced for accelerated highway construction and a dozen new technical institutes.

Morr displayed plans for construction of cabins along motel lines at Lake Hope. He said other parks would be included in the construction program. Revenue bonds to finance the projects will be retired from rentals, fees for food concessions and the like.

The director said it has not been determined whether park entrance fees would be charged.

He said the state would retain control of facilities that might be built by private contractors under lease arrangements. The state also could build the facilities and either operate or lease them, he added.

The $38 million was split into four segments to cover the entire state.

Recommended allocations of $9,421,000 for the northeast section were:

East Harbor on Lake Erie—$600,000, water supply and sewerage; Cleveland area—$3.2 million, land, camping and picnic areas and beach; Tinkers Creek $300,000, public hunting and fishing; Punderson $860,000, land camping and beach; Youngstown - Akron — $700,000, land; Warren—$1 million land; Lorain and Cuyahoga counties—$305,000, camping; Pymatuning—$200,000 camping; Refuge Harbor Youngstown-Ashtabula — $450,000 lake boating; Youngstown-Stark County—$481,000, water impoundment and camping; Mohican Forest Akron-Mansfield $265,000, boating, fishing and trails; Ashland wildlife — $40,000 fishing and $365,000, boating and harbor; (Continued on Page 2)

Minor Injuries Listed in Mishap

Three persons suffered minor injuries in a traffic mishap at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday about three miles north of Five Points on Route 56.

The accident occurred when a bale of straw fell from a truck driven by John M. Wilson, 29, Pennsville, O., and caused the second vehicle to go out of control, according to sheriff's deputies.

Injured were Jane Pratt, 33, who received a fractured right arm; Shelia Pratt, 15, laceration of the stomach; and Shirley Pratt, 11, who suffered a bruise to the right shoulder. All were passengers in an auto driven by Virgil Lee Pratt, 42, of Shade, O.

The injured were taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington, C. H., where they were treated and released.

No citations were issued according to Deputies Gene Kerns and William Pontius.

Civil Suit Is Dismissed

A jury trial of a civil suit Tuesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court was dismissed according to William Ammer, presiding judge.

The hearing involved Marshall McFarland, Route 1, plain tiff of the case, and Joe Moats and others associated with the Emanuel EUB Church.

McFarland contended the church owed him about $3,500 for services and materials in the construction of a parking lot on church grounds.

Judge Ammer said that the parties involved made a settlement after testimony had been given by two witnesses. The jury was dismissed.

Car Crashes; Three Injured

An 18-year-old Lockbourne girl and two passengers in the car she was driving received minor injuries last night when the vehicle went out of control on the Circleville-Lockbourne Rd. near Ashville.

Susan Beggrow, Route 1, Lockbourne, was attempting to pass another car when her auto went off the edge of the road.

The car knocked over six fence posts, damaged 110-feet of fence and turned completely over before coming to a halt.

Taken to Berger Hospital where they received treatment for lacerations and abrasions were Mrs. Beggrow and Brenda and Linda Ogan, both of Ashville.

The accident is still under investigation by Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler. Damage to the car was undetermined.

Carburetor Missing

Leon Catron, 208 Moats Drive, told city police Wednesday that a four-barrel carburetor was missing from a wrecked car he recently purchased. He said the auto was parked in the garage.

Kiwanis Urges Reaffirming Of Our Spiritual Heritage

Kiwanis International has gone on record as opposing "further attempts, however well intentioned, which tend to deny our national and personal trust in God, or to remove God from the corporate body of our government," according to information received here by Robert Wilson, president of Circleville Kiwanis.

Top leaders of the international service organization, meeting in Chicago, formally passed a resolution calling on the President and the Congress not only to stop this denial of religious expression, but "to reaffirm recognition of the spiritual heritage of this nation and its people."

Word of the resolution's passage was announced by Charles A. Swain, Cape May, N.J., president of Kiwanis International.

He characterized passage of the resolution at this time as being in keeping with the spirit of Thanksgiving, an historically American celebration epitomizing this nation's fundamental belief in God.

Swain represents an organization of 260,000 business and professional men in 5,200 clubs in countries of the Western Hemisphere and Western Europe.

Here is the text of the resolution:

"The United States of America is a nation founded upon belief in God and maturing under a trust in God. In return for that trust, He has blessed us beyond all other nations and protected us from our national follies and errors.

"From Him we have derived certain inalienable rights, among which are personal and religious freedom. We in turn have shared those with all who have come to the golden door seeking personal, religious, or political freedom. We have guaranteed religious freedom by providing that there shall be separation of church and state while at all times being committed to belief in God and His Will.

"WHEREAS, there are those who would have us interpret freedom of religion as freedom from religion, separation of state and church as separation of state and God, and

"WHEREAS, certain individuals and groups seeking to deny the dependence of this nation and its people on God have embarked on such campaigns as to affect removal of 'Under God' from the Pledge of Allegiance and 'In God We Trust' from our coinage,

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the President and the Congress of the United States be solemnly requested to reaffirm recognition of the spiritual heritage of this nation and its people and to oppose and prevent further attempts which tend to deny our national and personal trust in God or to remove God from the corporate body of our Government."

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—A rush of low Friday — and every share sold in the rush before the exchange officials shut down trading had to be bought by some one—were in position to cash in Tuesday on the rebound.

The exchanges were open such a short time after the President was shot that few of the general public are believed to have been among the traders.

Pros, some fearful perhaps of being caught by margin calls, others perhaps expecting to buy back in at lower prices, are believed by most observers to have done most of the trading Friday afternoon.

The public apparently was well-represented in the buying rush with the opening bell Tuesday morning.

For some outsiders, perennial critics of Wall Street, it must have seemed less a show of confidence than cynical response to a national tragedy.

But confidence — or at least common sense—was on display. The economy was too strong, apparently on the upgrade, for the death even of the chief executive to change the fundamental facts.

The change in the administration was too slight to be compared with the chaos that other nations experience when revolt topples leaders.

Almost everyone agrees that the drop in stock prices was overdone. And many fear that the rebound also was too sharp to be sustained. They expect the market for several days to be swayed by a series of reactions until a final level is achieved.

Business circles will be watching closely as the policies of President Johnson become clear. Few anticipate any great change, either in domestic or foreign policies. Many expect Johnson will be a bit more conservative than his predecessor, a little more sympathetic to business leaders' ideas. And most are counting on a period, however passing, of closer harmony between the White House and the Congress.

Or the performance on the two days may have meant only the initial wave of selling with which the market usually greet unexpected and disturbing news and then the not unexpected influx of bargain hunters.

Only a few of these got into the market in time to find many bargains left, so swiftly did it climb back after the three-day period for second guessing.

But those who bought at the

Why Be Thankful?

NEW YORK (AP)—What was there to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving holiday?

There is an old saying that "Some people would cry with a loaf of bread under each arm."

You can find a lot of things, both large and small, to be grateful for.

Here's one man's offhand list:

Turkeys are getting smaller, so that the hash now doesn't last more than a week.

Christmas comes but once a year.

You don't have to make any new resolutions to lead a better life until Jan. 1.

Stretch socks.

Rock 'n' roll music seems to be slowly dying.

More teen-agers are becoming 20 years old.

The U.S. Bill of Rights is still in existence.

Women carry eyeball-gouging umbrellas only on rainy days—and there are more sunny days than rainy ones.

It is getting too cold to hold backyard cookouts, so that a guest now has a better chance of eating his meals in a dining room like a civilized human being.

If you play your cards right, some days you can find a place to park your car within two miles of where you want to go.

You don't have to mow the lawn anymore this year.

No one has dropped a hydrogen bomb in anger—and no one seems about to.

When you get right down to it, only a born churl felt anything but gratitude on this Thanksgiving holiday. We have more blessings than we can count.

What Will Be, Will Be

The sight of many notables at the graveside ceremonies for John F. Kennedy made one wonder just what any speculation about the future is worth at this particular juncture.

The notables there weren't speculating, indeed, they seemed isolated in a moment of time between yesterday and tomorrow. Grief, the profound contemplation of things that have to do with eternity, disorientation, dismay, a fatalistic acceptance of God's will — all of these things, either separately or in combination, were mirrored in the many faces. And since nobody at the graveside was speculating, and since the world won't begin to disclose its patterns until speculation by people capable of acting on events begins of what value is it to attempt analysis.

There are the coming presidential primaries, for example. What has the death of Kennedy done to the Goldwater campaign? What will it do to the Democratic Party? What about the future of living Kennedys in politics? What about the relations of the U. S. toward Cuba, and the repercussions of same in 1964? Who really knows?

The reason why no speculations can be trustworthy at this particular stage is that ordinary emotions, for the time being, have gone into a deep freeze. Everything is waiting for emotions other than grief to be released. Which is to say that everything depends on "everything else," but nobody yet knows what "everything else" is.

The new President, Lyndon Baines Johnson, has always been an adept at flying by the seat of his pants. But what would you do if you were in his place at the moment? Clearly, as a man of the Southwest, with his roots deep in courthouse politics, he can't cotton to the type of eastern, Ivy League sophistication that Kennedy brought to Washington. Johnson's idea of a historian is not Arthur Schlesinger Jr., with his subtle theories about "openings to the left." Nor can Johnson's dream of an economist be Harvard's own Seymour Harris, proposed by Kennedy for a seat on the Federal Reserve Board. When Johnson turns to a historian, it is to such a one as Texas's own Walter Prescott Webb, the man who wrote the story of the Great Plains in terms of the simple invention of barbed wire. And his idea of an economist is the pragmatic Eliot Janeway, who believes that there are times when you use Keynes and times when you throw Keynes away.

Any analysis of Johnson, however, that takes off from his tastes in friendship could mean little for the immediate future. The fact is that he was the fate of a political party to consider, and that fate is bound up with the question of continuity. If Johnson should prefer to substitute Dean Acheson for Dean Rusk as Secretary of State, for example, how fast could he move toward doing it without seeming to criticize his predecessor? If he should wish to send foreign policy adviser Walt Rostow packing, could he do it without alienating the academics who can affect elections in the Northeast?

Johnson, as a profoundly political animal, will certainly wish to run in 1964. And, with ticklish problems, he can't jump at once. As a Texan, can he afford to out - Kennedy on pushing the tempo of civil rights? If he pushes too hard, the Goldwaters might still be successful with their "southern strategy." But if he doesn't push hard enough, there is the Northeast to lose. It could be lost, if not to Goldwater, then to Scranton or Rockefeller.

As an adept at navigating by the seat of his pants, Lyndon Johnson's 1964 running mate

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Deborah Ridlon, a student at Denison University, was spending the Thanksgiving holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Ridlon, Circle Drive.

The Church of the Nazarene, Walnut and Pickaway Sts., received a new electronic organ, a gift from Claud Foster, Cleveland industrialist.

Mr. and Mrs. George Van Camp and son, T. D., spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Winship Story, 125 Seyfert Ave.

TEN YEARS AGO

Boy Scout Troop 205 made and installed two bird-feeding stations at Berger Hospital.

Mrs. H. B. Given, W. Mound St., spent Thanksgiving in the home of her daughter and family Mrs. Robert Beach, Toledo.

Circleville High School Band Mothers organization sponsored a dance in Memorial Hall for 130 band members and guests.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Patrolman George Green and Charles Mumaw and Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell played cowboy in the city when they chased a steer which Dr. E. L. Montgomery reported he almost struck with his auto on N. Pickaway St.

At least half of the Christmas trees to decorate the downtown district for the holiday season had been erected.

Plans were discussed for the tenth Mistletoe Charity Ball, to be held in Memorial Hall.

Wood-Use Center

JACKSON, Ky. (AP) — The state has opened a $600,000 wood-use demonstration center at Quicksand with the hope it can help reviv eth economy in the depressed mountain area.

The center is in a region of Appalachian Mountain hardwoods. It also includes a training center for foresters and a lumber demonstration facility.

If you choose a plastic tree, be sure it is made of "slow-burning materials." If it has a built-in lighting system, it should carry the Underwriters Laboratories label. Metal trees will conduct electricity. Strings of lights on the tree may create a dangerous shock hazard.

Decorative lighting should be used with care. Check lights before using for frayed wires, loose connections and broken

Dear Editor,

I am a student at Circleville High School and have a complaint for the City of Circleville.

This past weekend the whole nation experienced a horrible event. We all shall miss President John F. Kennedy.

Also, we'll never forget Mrs. John F. Kennedy's majestic manner of conducting herself and her children. She is indeed a wonderful woman and mother.

After President Kennedy was laid to rest, President Johnson made one special request of the United States.

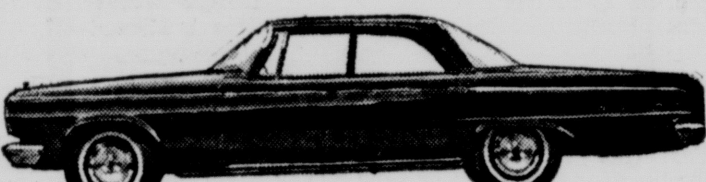

The special request was for all Americans to fly their flags in recognition of our dead President. Was this so much that people have failed to obey? Where are the flags?

In typing class our teacher gave us one sentence for speed. It was: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." I certainly feel this is the time for all of us to show our loyalty to our country.

Citizens, let us see your flags! Show your respect by obeying this simple but honorable request.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Holiday happiness reaching a peak at Thanksgiving and Christmas need not be marred by tragic but avoidable accidents.

The National Fire Protection Association of Boston, Mass., is a potent force in the creation of educational programs designed for the ultimate in fire prevention.

In a recent bulletin the association stressed that fire never takes a holiday, not even a Christmas holiday, and emphasized that carelessness and thoughtlessness multiply all fire hazards, particularly at Christmas.

The association cautions against leaving small children alone in a house, even for a very few minutes. The untold curiosity of children plus their interest in matches and Christmas trees magnifies the fire hazards. This combination can be particularly tragic, with death and destruction the result of lack of childhood supervision.

If the suggestions of the National Fire Protection Association are meticulously followed, the joys of a memorable holiday season can be sustained for the rest of the year.

To avoid the sorrow caused by fires, follow the sensible rules outlined by experts. They suggest:

1. First pick a fresh tree. Saw off the butt at an angle an inch or more above the original cut. Keep the tree standing in water from the time you get it home until you dispose of it. Don't rely on chemical preparations to "flame-proof" your tree. None is completely effective. Set the tree away from radiators or fireplaces and never where it might block escape in case of fire.
2. Decorative lighting should be used with care. Check lights before using for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Never use wax candles. Turn off trees and other decorative lighting before retiring or leaving the house.

For outdoor lighting, use only sets listed for outdoor use by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

3. Use noncombustible decorating materials (metal, glass, asbestos, etc.) wherever possible. If combustible — such things as cotton batting, flocking, paper and polystyrene foam — be sure the materials are "flame proofed."

4. Dispose of gift wrappings promptly. (Don't burn them in a living room or game room fireplace.)

5. Be extra-careful about smoking near the tree.

The precautions are simple. The rules are firm. The dividends in health and happiness are endless.

Use Mirrors For Decorating Problem Rooms

The answer to many a home decorating problem is none other than a woman's most honest critic — a mirror! It can make a room look larger, highlight a lovely setting or disguise unattractive features.

Imaginative homemakers are even grouping beautifully framed mirrors on the wall, just like pictures, to add sparkle to a dim or dull area.

Of course you have to know the rules of decorating in order to use a mirror in the most effective way. If the background wall is "busy", for example, it's best to select a simple frame — or dispense with a frame. But a simple background should be dramatized by an important, decorative frame.

Use a tall, narrow mirror if you want to create an illusion of height in a low-ceilinged room. A large horizontal mirror makes the ceiling seem lower and a wall wider.

Mirrors can be cut to fit any space — and there are mirror dealers in practically every locality.

No matter how lovely the mirror or how valuable as a decorative asset, it won't do its job unless it sparkles, just as its setting should.

Keep your mirrors bright by adding a little bluing to the rinse water. It gives a wonderful gleam.

Another and quite different decorating problem is that of the nursery. Many a young mother, in the happy flurry of decorating the nursery for a toddler, may be astonished to learn that even very small children now consider traditional designs "corny"! This on the word of experts, buyers of nursery furniture for stores.

They point out that over-cute decorative motifs and too much Mother Goose-type decor are outgrown very soon and cordially disliked by today's crop of youngsters.

The average youngster under eight years old, much prefers furniture in deep or bright colors instead of the wishy-washy pastels so often chosen for a nursery that is to become a child's room a few years later.

Store buyers advise, in selecting nursery furniture, the choice of basic designs for headboards, chests and lamps. There is plenty of opportunity for color and a touch of originality in the way fabrics are used, so there need be nothing stark or cheerless about the room even though the furniture is conservative.

As the child grows, it is much easier to change fabrics than to re-do completely or replace the furniture.

The main thing, whatever the furniture and accessories, is to stick to washable fabrics from floor to ceiling.

There is no problem today in finding washable paints, floor coverings, draperies and bedspreads.

Stir creamed salmon as little as possible so the fish will stay in chunks.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Play It Cool, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I am 53 and have been married only eight years to a man who is 66, short, fat and bald. He chases women of 35 and 40. For the past six months he has been going around publicly with the worst kind of women. He has even brought them to the house in my absence, knowing I would arrive and catch them. He admitted to my face that he is trying to get me to divorce him, but I am not going to let him off the hook so easy. I made a bad deal and, at my age, I am content to sit with it. How would you handle him in the future?

WRONGED
DEAR WRONGED: Tell him to quit chasing before he drops dead. And that if he wants a divorce, he'll have to catch YOU.

Use Attractive Mementos for Personal Touch

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

What do kindergarten drawings, souvenir programs picked up at the opera and sea shell souvenirs of a summer at the shore have in common? Several things!

All are treasured for various reasons and all have decorative possibilities.

Attractively framed, such mementos make meaningful wall decorations. You'll cherish them because they spell out a special sentimental message for you. Others will note them because they're offbeat and interesting enough to be conversation pieces.

It's a fun trend in decorating that lends a truly personal touch to any room.

What can you frame and hang? As one decorator puts it, "Hang it all!"

Almost anything that has eye appeal and is of special interest to you will fill the bill—and the wall space, as well.

Here, for example, are some of the unusual things people have framed and hung in their homes.

One mother has framed her son's and daughter's birth announcements — one with a blue mat, the other with a pink one. An antique fan has hung a collection of old keys, most of them brass, against a background of brilliant red felt.

Amusing sketches, sent to her by her husband and partner during their courtship days, make a decorative and original wall decoration for the distaff half of a well-known designing team.

A grandmother points with pride to a picture frame filled with medals won by the men in her family during two wars.

Other framed treasures spotted in homes include butterflies, pressed flowers, leaves, favorite toys that children have outgrown, antique jewelry, travel labels and tags.

All wall decorations needn't be framed, of course. One intriguing grouping, for example, combined framed nautical prints with some striking ship models that were displayed on shelves.

Have wall space that's bare? Then fill it up with something that has very special meaning for you!

and I have been going to our pastor for marriage counseling for the past three months. He's not a regular marriage counselor, but he serves the same purpose, and is doing us a lot of good. Nothing was ever mentioned about a fee. Should we wait for a bill? What if he never sends one? Or should we just send him a check? Please help us, but if you use our letter, don't use our names.

CHURCH MEMBERS

DEAR MEMBERS: Since no "fee" was mentioned, there probably is none. However, since you have had several sessions with the pastor, his services should be rewarded. Make a contribution to one of the special church funds (building fund, missionary, Sunday school). Every church can use money.

DEAR ABBY: I met a wonderful young man this summer. He asked me out and I accepted. At the end of the evening he told me how much he enjoyed the evening and said he'd call in a few days. It has been months and he has never called. I am heartbroken because I was so sure he'd call me. Abby, why does a boy do this if he doesn't intend to call a girl, why doesn't he just say, "Sorry, Honey you're not my type." That would be a real kindness, instead of leading a girl on. Please print this. A lot of guys need to learn that lesson.

Christian Science Topics Are Slated

Beginning Sunday and continuing through Dec. 29 a series of Christian Science radio topics will be presented.

The following programs will be given 5:45 p. m. each Sunday: "Is Hate Necessary", "The Effect of Jesus' Coming", "Who Was Jesus?", "What is Christmas", concluding with
"What the New Year Can Bring."

FIRST OF THE SEASON—A load of Christmas trees, first of the season, is removed from rail cars in Chicago. Edward Lindberg (left) and Howard Lipman put them on truck.

NEW YORK (AP)—Televised
Thanksgiving parades Thursday
made it official—the Christmas season has arrived. Santa Claus
was sighted in various cities including Toronto, Detroit and
New York.

CBS put its cameras on parades in several cities. ABC
stuck to one, in New York, and turned it into a real snappy
theatrical production.

Special holiday entertainment
wound up on NBC with a mildly
diverting variety program presided over by Arthur Godfrey.

A couple of words in a sentence by guest Orson Bean obviously were erased from the tape of the program. A check with the network revealed the censored words were "President Nixon," a mild gag in a parody

of a Longfellow poem.
The crack was innocuous
when Bean made it during the taping some time ago. They were ordered out because events
of last weekend.

Recommended weekend view-

ng:
Tonight — Young People's
Concert, CBS, 7:30-8:30 (EST),
Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Sunday — "Twentieth Century," CBS, 6-6:30 p. m.—documentary on the World War II occupation of Norway by the Nazis; Ed Sullivan Show, CBS, 89-hour-long performance by the Russian Obratsov Puppets;
"Ride with Terror," NBC, 10-11, suspense story of passenger held
by young thugs in a subway car.

One of the charms of being young, is the ability to forget. That is, to forget quickly, what might appear to be a hurt, a wrong, a slight, an injury. Then, as we grow older, there is a tendency to brood over hurts, and wrongs, and injuries — real or imaginary — and sometimes we lose that beautiful mental balance, between forgetting and remembering.

There is a place to take all your hurts, your memories, your injuries of spirit; that place is your church. There you will find peace and contentment. Tie a string around your finger, now! Remember church this Sunday!

The following is from Baha'i
teachings: Death is but a new birth — the escape from the prison of the body into a larger life. Progress in that after-life is limitless. Baha'u'llah has said: "I have made death a messenger of joy to thee; where-

NEW YORK (AP)—Televised
Thanksgiving parades Thursday
made it official—the Christmas season has arrived. Santa Claus
was sighted in various cities
including Toronto, Detroit and
New York.

CBS put its cameras on parades in several cities. ABC
stuck to one, in New York, and
turned it into a real snappy
theatrical production.

Special holiday entertainment
wound up on NBC with a mildly
diverting variety program presided over by Arthur Godfrey.

A couple of words in a sentence by guest Orson Bean obviously were erased from the tape of the program. A check with the network revealed the
censored words were "President
Nixon," a mild gag in a parody

of a Longfellow poem.
The crack was innocuous
when Bean made it during the taping some time ago. They were ordered out because events
of last weekend.

ng:

Tonight — Young People's Concert, CBS, 7:30-8:30 (EST),

tury," CBS, 6-6:30 p. m.—documentary on the World War II

Nazis; Ed Sullivan Show, CBS,

the Russian Obitrov Puppets;
"Ride with Terror," NBC, 10-11,

by young thugs in a subway car.

A REMINDER

One of the charms of being young, is the ability to forget. That is, to forget quickly, what might appear to be a hurt, a wrong, a slight, an injury. Then, as we grow older, there is a tendency to brood over hurts, and wrongs, and injuries — real or imaginary — and sometimes we lose that beautiful mental balance, between forgetting and remembering.

There is a place to take all your hurts, your memories, your injuries of spirit; that place is your church. There you will find peace and contentment. Tie a string around your finger, now! Remember church this Sunday!

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i
teachings: Death is but a new birth — the escape from the prison of the body into a larger
life. Progress in that after-life
is limitless. Baha'u'llah has said: "I have made death a messenger of joy to thee; wherefore dost thou grieve? I made the light to shed on thee its splendor; why dost thou veil thyself therefrom?"

THE GRACE OF GENEROSITY
GREAT SPIRITUAL TRUTHS PUT FORTH BY PAUL
IN DISCUSSING A COLLECTION FOR THE POOR

By N. SPEER JONES
THE IMMEDIATE situation
around which this lesson is based is the collection taken up by the apostle Paul for the members of the Christian church in Jerusalem. Reference is made to this collection in I Corinthians 16, Romans 15:25-
33, and Acts 24:17. Indirect reference is also made to the needs
of this church in Acts 4:32-37,
where we see how the Jerusalem members banded together
for their mutual aid, attempting a form of communal living.

Why was it that the church
in Jerusalem, out of all the newly founded Christian churches in various cities, was the one church which seemed to be so desperately needy?

GOLDEN TEXT
"Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also."—II Corinthians 8:7.

As Philip Hughes points out
in his recently published "Commentary on the Second Epistle
to the Corinthians," the Christian church in Jerusalem was situated in the stronghold of Judaism. It was surrounded by
"Jewish fervor and exclusivism," which must have made the Christian converts the victims of "social and economic ostracism, ecclesiastical excommunication, and national dis-inheritance."

In addition to his immediate motivation for the relief of these people, Paul uses the situation to preach other spiritual truths to the Corinthians. These two chapters constitute the longest section in the Bible on the subject of giving.

Paul begins his plea by holding up the example of the church in Jerusalem. Based on copyrighted outlines produced

596 N. Court — Circleville

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jack
Ruby created a legal situation
never — literally — seen before when, in full view of practically all America, he gunned a man
to death.

Ruby couldn't claim self-defense. He shot Lee Harvey Oswald, charged with assassinat-
ing President John F. Kennedy, in the Dallas city jail while the handcuffed Oswald was surrounded by police. Nor could he claim it was an accident.

He couldn't try to say he did not do it. Millions saw him on television as he did it. Other millions saw him do it on endless television reruns. Newspapers carried pictures of it from coast to coast.

The U.S. Supreme Court has already said what it thinks of the effect on a local community
which sees a man confess on local television to a local crime.
But Ruby did more than confess, and it wasn't local.

Since Kennedy and Oswald
were both killed in Dallas, the people there could not but be particularly aware of the events.
And it would be a poor Dallas
citizen who didn't have an interest in the events and what Ruby did.

Yet, Ruby will be tried before a jury of Dallas citizens. This raises a question: Can Ruby get a fair trial in the legal sense
that the people on his jury
have not already prejudged him?

And, since the whole nation
was a witness could he in the same sense get a fair trial anywhere in this country?

Ordinarily where there are unusually strong local feelings
about a crime, or where the people have unusual interest or knowledge of it, the defense lawyer can ask for a change of venue.

This means having his trial in some other city where there was not the same local feeling, interest or knowledge. But the interest in, and knowledge of, what Ruby did was national. A change in venue would seem senseless.

The Supreme Court stepped into a local case earlier this year.

Wilbur Rideau, a Louisiana
Negro, was convicted of murder
in a 1961 crime in which a bank
was robbed, a woman clerk
was stabbed to death, and three other bank employees were wounded by a lone bandit.

Rideau was apprehended. The sheriff got a confession from him and then, in a local televi-

The Grace of Generosity
GREAT SPIRITUAL TRUTHS PUT FORTH BY PAUL
IN DISCUSSING A COLLECTION FOR THE POOR

By N. SPEER JONES
THE IMMEDIATE situation
around which this lesson is based is the collection taken up
by the apostle Paul for the members of the Christian church in Jerusalem. Reference
is made to this collection in I
Corinthians 16, Romans 15:25-
33, and Acts 24:17. Indirect reference is also made to the needs
of this church in Acts 4:32-37,
where we see how the Jerusalem members banded together
for their mutual aid, attempting a form of communal living.
Why was it that the church
in Jerusalem, out of all the
newly founded Christian churches in various cities, was
the one church which seemed to be so desperately needy?

GOLDEN TEXT
"Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also."—II Corinthians 8:7.

As Philip Hughes points out
in his recently published "Commentary on the Second Epistle
to the Corinthians," the Christian church in Jerusalem was situated in the stronghold of Judaism. It was surrounded by
"Jewish fervor and exclusiv-
ism," which must have made
the Christian converts the victims of "social and economic ostracism, ecclesiastical excommunication, and national disinheritance."
In addition to his immediate motivation for the relief of these people, Paul uses the situation to preach other spiritual truths to the Corinthians. These two chapters constitute the longest section in the Bible on
the subject of giving.
Paul begins his plea by holding up the example of the National Council of Churches of Christ

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jack
Ruby created a legal situation
never — literally — seen before
when, in full view of practically all America, he gunned a man
to death.

Ruby couldn't claim self-defense. He shot Lee Harvey Oswald, charged with assassinat-
ing President John F. Kennedy,
in the Dallas city jail while the
handcuffed Oswald was surrounded by police. Nor could he claim it was an accident.

He couldn't try to say he did not do it. Millions saw him on television as he did it. Other millions saw him do it on endless television reruns. Newspapers carried pictures of it from coast to coast.

The U.S. Supreme Court has already said what it thinks of
the effect on a local community
which sees a man confess on local television to a local crime.
But Ruby did more than confess, and it wasn't local.

Since Kennedy and Oswald
were both killed in Dallas, the people there could not but be particularly aware of the events.
And it would be a poor Dallas
citizen who didn't have an interest in the events and what Ruby
did.

Yet, Ruby will be tried before a jury of Dallas citizens. This raises a question: Can Ruby get
a fair trial in the legal sense
that the people on his jury
have not already prejudged him?

And, since the whole nation
was a witness could he in the same sense get a fair trial anywhere in this country?

Ordinarily where there are
unusually strong local feelings
about a crime, or where the people have unusual interest or
knowledge of it, the defense lawyer can ask for a change of venue.

This means having his trial in some other city where there was not the same local feeling, interest or knowledge. But the interest in, and knowledge of,
what Ruby did was national. A change in venue would seem senseless.

The Supreme Court stepped into a local case earlier this year.

Wilbur Rideau, a Louisiana
Negro, was convicted of murder
in a 1961 crime in which a bank
was robbed, a woman clerk
was stabbed to death, and three other bank employees were wounded by a lone bandit.

Rideau was apprehended. The sheriff got a confession from
him and then, in a local television station, had him repeat the confession in full public view.

This TV confession was broadcast three days in a row.

The defense lawyer contended that by the television showing Rideau was "allowed to convict himself" before the public in an area from which residents were called as jurors at the trial.

Further, the lawyer argued, three of the trial jurors saw the broadcast and to of the jurors were deputy sheriffs.

The state argued the three TV-watching jurors swore they could and would decide the case solely on evidence produced at the trial and that the two deputies had honorary commissions and had no connection with the sheriff's department.

Rideau's lawyer asked that the trial be held in another parish—county. The request was denied and, after being found guilty, Rideau was sentenced to death.

On June 3, 1961, the Supreme Court overturned the conviction.
Justice Potter Stewart, speaking for the court, said Rideau was denied constitutionally guaranteed due process of law when he was refused a change in venue.

Stewart said: "The people of Calcasieu Parish—where the trial was held—had been exposed repeatedly and in depth to the spectacle of Rideau personally confessing in detail to the crime with which he was later charged."

"For anyone who has ever watched television, the conclusion cannot be avoided that this spectacle, to the tens of thousands of people who saw and heard it, in a very real sense was Rideau's trial—at which he pleaded guilty to murder."

"Any subsequent court proceedings in a community so pervasively exposed to such a spectacle could be but a hollow formality. Due process of law in this case required a trial before a jury drawn from a community of people who had not seen or heard Rideau's 'televised' interview."

Where does this leave Ruby?
Could this public exposure in a "very real sense" be considered
Ruby's trial in which, by killing Oswald in public view, he
"pleaded guilty to murder"?

Club at Lincoln Provides Turkeys at Thanksgiving

TURKEY TIME AT LINCOLN — These employees at the Circleville Lincoln Molded Plastics plant line up to receive their Thanksgiving turkeys. Each member of the Lincoln Molded Plastics Club receives one of the birds. In the past seven years, about 12,000 pounds of turkey, valued at approximately $6,000, have been distributed. Pictured here receiving their turkeys on Wednesday are, from the left: Louis Davis, Mary Cradlebaugh, Dwight Berry, Willard Seymour, Al Deckard, Darwin Gumm, Nancy Speakman, Don Salyers, Robert Good and distributor Forrest Phillips.

This Thanksgiving week marked the seventh anniversary of "Turkey Time at Lincoln." This means a turkey for each employee who belongs to the Lincoln Molded Plastics Club in Circleville.

In 1952 a group of employees felt a club should be formed in order to permit the planning of social events for members. Officers and directors are elected each January to serve one year. They assume these responsibilities in addition to their regular positions at the plant.

A representative of management serves in an advisory capacity only. Membership in the club is not compulsory. But it is interesting to note that each year approximately 99 per cent of Lincoln employees belong.

Funds of the club are derived from employee monthly contributions through payroll deductions, matched by management contributions, as well as profits from canteen and softdrink-vending machines.

In 1957, management's representative suggested giving each member a turkey for Thanksgiving. This was greeted with such enthusiasm that it has become the practice each year.

With the passing of yesterday's Thanksgiving, approximately 12,000 pounds of turkey have been distributed by the club in the past seven years. This total distribution amounts to approximately $6,000.

According to spokesmen, it is considered a small effort on the part of club officers to order this heavy amount of turkey. They say the big job is handled by a local produce merchant weeks in advance in order to have the prize birds ready for delivery two days prior to Thanksgiving.

This year's officers of the Lincoln Molded Plastics Club are: Forrest Phillips, president; Paul Graffis, vice president; Martha Steel, secretary; Nancy Speakman, treasurer. Serving as directors are Virginia Hoffman, Damon Lively, Donald Salyers and Robert Good.

Harold Downing, Clyde Huff and Paul Graffis are three of the officers who served the club its first year — 1952. These three men are still employed at Lincoln and have served as an officer or director many times in the past 12 years.

Rabbi Silver, Leader of World Jewry, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, one of the principal architects of the modern state of Israel and a leader in world Jewry for nearly 50 years, is dead.

He and his family were sitting down to Thanksgiving dinner in his home in suburban Shaker Heights Thursday when he complained of a shortness of breath and a tightening in his chest. He was taken to Lakeside Hospital, where he died of an apparent heart attack.

Funeral services are scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday at the Temple, where he had been spiritual leader for more than 45 years.

Although his honors and accomplishments were numerous, Rabbi Silver, 70, perhaps was best known as one of the shapers of the state of Israel.

He took part in a historic conference of American Jewry in New York in 1942 at which a definite program was adopted defining the establishment of an independent Israel as the principal aim of Zionism. He presented the Zionist case before the United Nations in 1947 and 1948 and on May 14, 1948, the state of Israel was officially proclaimed.

During the past 10 years, Rabbi Silver had received many honors, awards and citations, including the Human Relations Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews in 1958.

More than 2,000 persons gathered at a testimonial dinner here last Jan. 20 to honor Rabbi Silver on his 70th birthday. Among them were Anthony J. Celebrezze, a former Cleveland mayor who is now secretary of health, education and welfare.

He was born in Lithuania, the son of Rabbi Moses Silver. His family came to this country when he was 8, and he grew up on New York's lower East Side.

Called the father of unemployment insurance in Ohio, Rabbi Silver persuaded the Consumer League of Ohio in 1928 to study unemployment and unemployment insurance. He later framed the first state legislation on unemployment insurance.

He helped found in Cleveland the first Community Fund in the country and also served as mediator in labor-management disputes. He was president of the Cleveland Bureau of Jewish Education from 1924 through 1932 and headed the Cleveland Jewish Welfare Federation from 1935 through 1941.

During the 1930s, Rabbi Silver devoted much of his energy to the formation of anti-Nazi groups.

He was the author of several books.

Work was begun in 1935 under Roosevelt to harness Passamaquoddy, Maine's, tides. But the project became a political football and was abandoned in 1937.

Club at Lincoln Provides Turkeys at Thanksgiving

TURKEY TIME AT LINCOLN — These employees at the Circleville Lincoln Molded Plastics plant line up to receive their Thanksgiving turkeys. Each member of the Lincoln Molded Plastics Club receives one of the birds. In the past seven years, about 12,000 pounds of turkey, valued at approximately $6,000, have been distributed. Pictured here receiving their turkeys on Wednesday are, from the left: Louis Davis, Mary Cradlebaugh, Dwight Berry, Willard Seymour, Al Deckard, Darwin Gumm, Nancy Speakman, Don Salyers, Robert Good and distributor Forrest Phillips.

This Thanksgiving week marked the seventh anniversary of "Turkey Time at Lincoln." This means a turkey for each employee who belongs to the Lincoln Molded Plastics Club in Circleville.

In 1952 a group of employees felt a club should be formed in order to permit the planning of social events for members. Officers and directors are elected each January to serve one year. They assume these responsibilities in addition to their regular positions at the plant.

A representative of management serves in an advisory capacity only. Membership in the club is not compulsory. But it is interesting to note that each year approximately 99 per cent of Lincoln employees belong.

Funds of the club are derived from employee monthly contributions through payroll deductions, matched by management contributions, as well as profits from canteen and softdrink vending machines.

In 1957, management's representative suggested giving each member a turkey for Thanksgiving. This was greeted with such enthusiasm that it has become the practice each year.

With the passing of yesterday's Thanksgiving, approximately 12,000 pounds of turkey have been distributed by the club in the past seven years. This total distribution amounts to approximately $6,000.

According to spokesmen, it is considered a small effort on the part of club officers to order this heavy amount of turkey. They say the big job is handled by a local produce merchant weeks in advance in order to have the prize birds ready for delivery two days prior to Thanksgiving.

This year's officers of the Lincoln Molded Plastics Club are: Forrest Phillips, president; Paul Graffis, vice president; Martha Steel, secretary; Nancy Speakman, treasurer. Serving as directors are Virginia Hoffman, Damon Lively, Donald Salyers and Robert Good.

Harold Downing, Clyde Huffer and Paul Graffis are three of the officers who served the club its first year — 1952. These three men are still employed at Lincoln and have served as an officer or director many times in the past 12 years.

All-Ohio Football Team Is Named in Poll by AP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's top - talented scholastic gridders won the season's highest honor today—births on the 1963 Associated Press Class AA All-State high school team.

They come from everywhere, these football jewels who make the Buckeye realm the happy hunting grounds of collegiate coaches.

The kids have everything—offensive explosiveness and scoring ability, and a stalwart defense. They were chosen, with the aid of hundreds of coaches, sports editors and officials, for sheer individual brilliance.

Duke Fyffe, Circleville High School's bruising fullback and linebacker, was named to the third team defensive unit of the All-Ohio High School football squad.

Tom Tootle made the honorable mention role at quarterback.

Both Fyffe and Tootle were picked to the All-South Central Ohio League grid team selected by the league coaches. Fyffe received All-Ohio mention last year.

The two Tiger gridders, in addition to being outstanding athletes, are both members of the Circleville High School chapter of the National Honor Society.

Heading the list are Dick Himes, Canton South's 6-foot 5-inch repeater at end, who was named lineman of the year, and Martins Ferry's stellar quarterback, Ron DiStefano, the back of the year.

Although his team finished third in the final ratings, behind

Niles McKinley and Massillon Washington, Earle Bruce of Sandusky was tagged as "coach of the year" by the voters.

Bruce also was the sentimental favorite to coach the North All-Stars in next August's Yankee-Reble game at Canton, while Springfield South's Lowell Storm was favored to handle the down-state squad. The voting on the North - South coaches was merely a sentiment-determining project, since the mentors will make the actual selections.

Behind Bruce, in the coach-of-the-year race was Ken Amlin of Dayton Roth. Tied for third were Bob Smith of Fremont St. Joseph, Tony Mason of champion Niles, Lloyd Dunne of Ashland, Chuck Stobart of Mount Vernon, Bob Wion of Martins Ferry and Jim Allen of Newark. High in the list were Leo Strang of Massillon and Bron Bacevich of Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Marc McClain, Bellevue's fine offensive - defensive back, was runner-up to DiStefano for back-of-the-year laurels. Tackle Gary Knauer of Sandusky and guard John Kasselmann of Cincinnati Roger Bacon tied for second behind Himes for the lineman award.

The selections were made from almost 20,000 youngsters playing on the Class AA squads, so the first team members are almost "1,000-to-1" shots.

Forty-nine schools were represented by the 66 boys on the first three teams, and the honorable mention list lauded many others. Martins Ferry, Massillon and Niles won three of the top berths, while schools winning two berths were Canton South, Cleveland St. Ignatius, Kettering Fairmont West, Sandusky, Lorain Admiral King, Springfield South, Lima Senior, Xenia, Bellevue, Toledo Rogers and Logan.

CHS Given 64-31 Cage Defeat by Pleasant View Five

The Circleville High School basketball team was downed by Pleasant View Wednesday night, 64-31, in the opening game of the South Central Ohio League.

The Tigers led in the early stages and were on top 13-10 at the end of the first period. But from there on the game belonged to the Pleasant View Panthers.

The host team outplayed CHS completely in the three final periods.

Statistics tell the story. Circleville hit only 10 of a meager 34 attempts from the field and could capitalize on only 11 of 27 free throw chances. They also committed 24 turnovers and were able to recover the ball on Panther errors eight times.

THE WINNERS hit 28 of 70 attempts from the field and eight of 13 from the charity stripe.

The Tigers could tally only one field goal in both the second and third quarters. This was a tip in by Charlie Lewis, with 59 seconds to go before halftime.

The score was 26-17 at that point. Tom Smith and John Thomas had added a pair of free throws each to give the Tigers four points.

In the third quarter, the Red and Black tallied five points — all on charity tosses. At this time the Tigers trailed 40-22 and by the end of the tilt the winners had more than doubled the score.

The lone bright spot for the Tigers was John Thomas' defensive performance. The rugged junior forward held Late Romine, high scorer for Pleasant View last year, to two points. And he committed no fouls doing it.

Thomas was also the high scorer for Circleville, hitting two field goals and five charity tosses for nine points. Smith was next with six on a pair of charity tosses and a pair of field goals.

JUST ABOUT every player on the Tiger Bench saw action as Don Neff searched for a combination that could break the solid Panther defense.

Playing a tenacious man-to-man the Panthers limited Circleville to 34 shots from the field while they in turn were taking 70.

The Tiger defense as a whole, after the first period, was completely unsuccessful in stopping the Panthers. Nine of the hosts broke into the scoring column.

Gaining high point honors in the tilt was George Fannin, a junior center. He hit 10 from the field and two from the charity stripe for a total of 22 markers. John Warden scored 15 for the winners and Tad Lamb contributed nine.

Pleasant View has a veteran team, with four of last year's starting five returning. Opposing coaches in the South Central League have tabbed the Panthers as one of the threats to dethrone co-champions Wilmington and Miami Trace.

In the preliminary tilt, the young Panthers also were able to come up with a win.

THE TIGER cubs trailed by only two points, 28-26, as the final period began. But in those last minutes they couldn't buy a basket while the host team was racking up 13 points. The final score was 41-31.

David Iery was the leading scorer with 10 points for Circleville. Tim Stonerock had eight and Howard Dade tallied seven.

High for the winners was Salvers with 15 while Coe scored 10.

Saturday Circleville travels to Chillicothe where ex-teammates Don Neff and Corky Miller will pit their teams against each other.

Neff and Miller are graduates of Unioto High School, located near the Ross County Seat, and Ohio University at Athens.

Neff pointed out that Unioto had no game Saturday night. The tilt between the Cavaliers and the Tigers promises to be a top drawing card in the area.

He advises Tiger fans to get there early if they hope to get a seat.

Logan Elm Is Defeated By Centralia

Logan Elm, defending Central District co-champs, opened its 1963-64 basketball season Wednesday at Centralia by suffering a 64-54 loss at the hands of the Bulldogs.

The winners, veterans of four games prior to Wednesday's contest, led all the way. Their record stands at 4-1.

As the first quarter ended they held a slim 13-12 margin. By halftime the Bulldogs built their edge to 33-27. During the third canto both teams battled on even terms. The score was 50-44 as the final period began.

The Braves outscored the winners from the field, but first game roughness gave the Centralia cagers a total of 39 free throw attempts. They were able to cash in on 22 charity tosses to provide the winning margin.

FROM the field, the winners hit 21 of 44 for a torrid 48 per cent.

Logan Elm connected on 23 of 61 field goal attempts for 38 per cent average and hit eight of 23 charity tosses for a scant 35 per cent in this department.

The Braves committed 11 turnovers. Centralia hauled down 36 rebounds and Logan Elm picked 35 off the boards.

High point honors went to the Braves' Art Murray. He hit 12 of 20 attempts from the field and four of 11 at the charity stripe for 30 points.

Jeff Lutz tallied eight and Gary Hardman seven to trail Murray by a wide margin.

High for the winners was Glenn Burchwell with 21. David Edler contributed 18.

The Braves won the preliminary tilt, 46-26. Sophomore Rodney Hedges paced the attack with 15 points, while freshmen Jim Moorehead and Russ Merrin added 11 and 10 respectively.

Saturday night Logan Elm plays at Kingston and Centralia hosts Bucksin tonight in a Ross County league game.

All-Ohio Football Team Is Named in Poll by AP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's top - talented scholastic gridders won the season's highest honor today—berths on the 1963 Associated Press Class AA All-State high school team.

They come from everywhere, these football jewels who make the Buckeye realm the happy hunting grounds of collegiate coaches.

The kids have everything—of- fensive explosiveness and scor- ing ability, and a stalwart de- fense. They were chosen, with the aid of hundreds of coaches, sports editors and officials, for sheer individual brilliance.

Duke Fyffe, Circleville High School's bruising fullback and linebacker, was named to the third team defensive unit of the All-Ohio High School foot- ball squad.

Tom Tootle made the hon- orable mention role at quar- terback.

Both Fyffe and Tootle were picked to the All-South Central Ohio League grid team selected by the league coach- es. Fyffe received All- Ohio mention last year.

The two Tiger gridders, in addition to being outstanding athletes, are both members of the Circleville High School chapter of the National Honor Society.

Heading the list are Dick Himes, Canton South's 6-foot 5- inch repeater at end, who was named lineman of the year, and Martins Ferry's stellar quar- terback, Ron DiStefano, the back of the year.

Although his team finished third in the final ratings, behind

Niles McKinley and Massillon Washington, Earle Bruce of San- dusky was tagged as "coach of the year" by the voters.

Bruce also was the sentiment- al favorite to coach the North All-Stars in next August's Yan- kee-Reble game at Canton, while Springfield South's Lowell Storm was favored to handle the down-state squad. The voting on the North - South coaches was merely a sentiment-determining project, since the mentors will make the actual selections.

Behind Bruce, in the coach of- the-year race was Ken Amlin of Dayton Roth. Tied for third were Bob Smith of Fremont St. Joseph, Tony Mason of Cham- pion Niles, Lloyd Dunne of Ash- land, Chuck Stobart of Mount Vernon, Bob Wion of Martins Ferry and Jim Allen of Newark.

High in the list were Leo Strang of Massillon and Bron Bacevich of Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Marc McClain, Bellevue's fine offensive - defensive back, was runnerup to DiStefano for back- of-the-year laurels. Tackle Gary Knauer of Sandusky and guard John Kasselmann of Cincinnati Roger Bacon tied for second be- hind Himes for the lineman award.

The selections were made from almost 20,000 youngsters playing on the Class AA squads, so the first team members are almost "1,000-to-1" shots.

Forty-nine schools were represented by the 66 boys on the first three teams, and the hon- orable mention list lauded many others. Martins Ferry, Massillon and Niles won three of the top berths, while schools winning two berths were Canton South, Cleveland St. Ignatius, Ketter- ing Fairmont West, Sandusky, Lorain Admiral King, Spring- field South, Lima Senior, Xenia, Bellevue, Toledo Rogers and Logan.

Logan Elm Is Defeated By Centralia

Logan Elm, defending Central District co-champs, opened its 1963-64 basketball season Wednesday at Centralia by suffer- ing a 64-54 loss at the hands of the Bulldogs.

The winners, veterans of four games prior to Wednes- day's contest, led all the way. Their record stands at 4-1.

As the first quarter ended they held a slim 13-12 margin. By halftime the Bulldogs built their edge to 33-27. During the third canto both teams battled on even terms. The score was 50-44 as the final period began.

The Braves outscored the winners from the field, but first game roughness gave the Cen- tralia cagers a total of 39 free throw attempts. They were able to cash in on 22 charity tosses to provide the winning margin.

FROM the field, the winners hit 21 of 44 for a torrid 48 per cent.

Logan Elm connected on 23 of 61 field goal attempts for 38 per cent average and hit eight of 23 charity tosses for a scant 35 per cent in this department.

The Braves committed 11 turnovers. Centralia hauled down 36 rebounds and Logan Elm picked 35 off the boards.

High point honors went to the Braves' Art Murray. He hit 12 of 20 attempts from the field and four of 11 at the charity stripe for 30 points.

Jeff Lutz tallied eight and Gary Hardman seven to trail Murray by a wide margin.

High for the winners was Glenn Burchwell with 21. David Edler contributed 18.

The Braves won the pre- liminary tilt, 46-26. Sophomore Rodney Hedges paced the at- tack with 15 points, while freshmen Jim Moorehead and Russ Merrin added 11 and 10 respectively.

Saturday night Logan Elm plays at Kingston and Centralia hosts Buckskin tonight in a Ross County league game.

CHS Given 64-31 Cage Defeat by Pleasant View Five

The Circleville High School basketball team was downed by Pleasant View Wednesday night, 64-31, in the opening game of the South Central Ohio League.

The Tigers led in the early stages and were on top 13-10 at the end of the first period. But from there on the game belonged to the Pleasant View Panthers.

The host team outplayed CHS completely in the three final periods.

Statistics tell the story. Circleville hit only 10 of a meager 34 attempts from the field and could capitalize on only 11 of 27 free throw chances. They also committed 24 turnovers and were able to recover the ball on Panther errors eight times.

THE WINNERS hit 28 of 70 at- tempts from the field and eight of 13 from the charity stripe.

The Tigers could tally only one field goal in both the sec- ond and third quarters. This was a tip in by Charlie Lewis, with 59 seconds to go before halftime.

The score was 26-17 at that point. Tom Smith and John Thomas had added a pair of free throws each to give the Tigers three points.

In the third quarter, the Red and Black tallied five points — all on charity tosses. At this time the Tigers trailed 40-22 and by the end of the tilt the winners had more than doubled the score.

The lone bright spot for the Tigers was John Thomas' de- fensive performance. The rug- ged junior forward held Lade Romine, high scorer for Pleas- ant View last year, to two points. And he committed no fouls doing it.

Thomas was also the high scorer for Circleville, hitting two field goals and five charity tosses for nine points. Smith was next with six on a pair of charity tosses and a pair of field goals.

JUST ABOUT every player on the Tiger Bench saw action as Don Neff searched for a com- bination that could break the solid Panther defense.

Playing a tenacious man-to- man the Panthers limited Circleville to 34 shots from the field while they in turn were taking 70.

The Tiger defense as a whole, after the first period, was completely unsuccessful in stopping the Panthers. Nine of the hosts broke into the scoring column.

Gaining high point honors in the tilt was George Fannin, a junior center. He hit 10 from the field and two from the charity stripe for a total of 22 markers. John Warden scored 15 for the winners and Tad Lamb contributed nine.

Pleasant View has a veteran team, with four of last year's starting five returning. Oppos- ing coaches in the South Cen- tral League have tabbed the Panthers as one of the threats to dethrone co-champions Wil- mington and Miami Trace.

In the preliminary tilt, the young Panthers also were able to come up with a win.

THE TIGER cubs trailed by only two points, 28-26, as the final period began. But in those last minutes they couldn't buy a basket while the host team was racking up 13 points. The final score was 41-31.

David Iery was the leading scorer with 10 points for Circleville. Tim Stonerock had eight and Howard Dade tallied seven.

High for the winners was Sal- yers with 15 while Coe scored 10.

Saturday Circleville travels to Chillicothe where ex-team- mates Don Neff and Corky Miller will pit their teams against each other.

Neff and Miller are graduates of Unioto High School, located near the Ross County Seat, and Ohio University at Athens.

Neff pointed out that Unioto had no game Saturday night. The tilt between the Cavaliers and the Tigers promises to be a top drawing card in the area.

He advises Tiger fans to get there early if they hope to get a seat.

Sharp Named Division Head By General

Joseph C. Sharp of Portsmouth has been promoted General Telephone Co. of Ohio's southern division manager at Portsmouth, it was announced today by F. W. Hamper of Marion, vice-president-operations.

JOSEPH C. SHARP

Sharp moves up from southern division plant manager, a position he has held since last August. He succeeds A. C. Purpura, who died Nov. 10. The promotion is effective Dec. 1.

Replacing Sharp as division plant manager is Mark L. Williams of Brookville, presently General's Brookville district plant supervisor.

A native of Johnstown, Pa., Sharp joined General of Ohio in 1955. He served eight years as general installation and maintenance supervisor in the company's general plant department in Marion.

Sharp was graduated from Ingleswood, Calif., high school in 1936. From 1937 to 1955 he was employed by General Telephone of Pennsylvania, an affiliate of General of Ohio, holding various plant positions.

During World War II, he held the rank of Major, serving in the U. S. Army in the South Pacific Theater of Operations.

Williams has been Brookville district plant supervisor since 1959. He joined General of Ohio in 1953, holding plant positions also in Caldwell, Jackson and Waverly. He attended Jackson High School, and is a native of Piketon.

In his new post, Sharp will manage General's telephone operations in southern Ohio and report directly to Vice President Hamper. The southern division includes 71 central offices and more than 92,800 telephones.

Married, Sharp and his wife, Stella, have two children, Joel 23, and Sally, 21. The family resides in Marion, but plans to move to Portsmouth soon.

President and member of the board of the Buckeye Chapter of the Independent Telephone Pioneers Assn., he formerly was chairman of the Ohio Independent Telephone Association plant committee.

The southern division, headquartered in Portsmouth, has district offices in Circleville, Athens, Georgetown, Portsmouth and Wilmington.

Grocery at Ashville Reports Illegal Entry

Deputy Warren Straley reported nothing apparently was taken. Entry was gained for forcing a front door.

Reasons Listed For Removal of Old Water Tower

Reasons behind the decision to scrap the old standpipe at the City Waterworks west of Circleville were outlined today by Ervin Leist, public utilities manager.

Leist said he was offering the explanation in answer to many questions on why the old water tower should be removed. He said the final decision was made following considerable study.

A projected plan to insure a dependable water supply, at a minimum cost, was a prime factor in doing away with the old tower, the utilities head noted.

Here are some of the key points and background information he listed on why the scrapping decision was made:

AFTER considerable engineering study and testing, it was determined that a more dependable supply of water was available on the east side of the Scioto River.

Plans to develop a new water treatment plant at the old waterworks site were abandoned. A decision to utilize the old infiltration gallery to its fullest extent, with additional water supply to be drawn from one or more deep wells at a new site was incorporated into the plan for the iron removal plant.

The site for the new plant was selected on land through which the high pressure line from the old waterworks passed.

In order to utilize the old standpipe it would be necessary to install at least one new pipe line of large diameter from the new plant, a distance 1 1/2 miles, back to the old standpipe. This would have involved another river crossing at the Scioto. The cost was estimated at $100,000 for such a pipeline.

A low pressure pump was designed for moving "gallery water" through the old high pressure pipe line to the new plant for treatment. In order to fill the old tower with treated water high pressure pumps located in the new plant would discharge water through a new pipeline back to the standpipe.

At this point in the planning, it was apparent that in order to utilize any treated water from the standpipe, another pipeline for high pressure water would be necessary to bring that water back to a point adjacent to the new plant where a connection to the high pressure line into the city could be made.

THIS WOULD involve another $100,000 for the second pipe line. The total cost of utilizing the old standpipe would, therefore, approach $200,000 if continued use of the infiltration gallery as a water source was employed.

The cost of another elevated tank like the new one on Nicholas Drive was considerably less than the estimated pipeline cost for continued use of the standpipe.

In view of this decision to abandon the old tank was not a difficult one for utilities officials to make.

In view of this standpipe and allied study, Leist said the apparent conclusion leaned toward the future addition of another elevated tank in the city if and when needed. He said emphasis would be on placing the tower where water is needed and operating the supply at adequate pressure.
